

How to get the best from your staff

The truth is we do not lead companies or programs we lead people. Programs and companies move up or down through the attitudes and actions of those we lead.

It is our mission to discover and deploy the best from our people. Yet for most of us we get entangled in the daily details of paper work, reports, and a meetings, all the while believing this is what makes our programs function at their best.

The people we lead are our greatest resource and the leader who implements these seven tools that will be discussed in this workshop enjoy a highly successful program.

All great leaders speak up for their staff ...

S _____ up as yourself, be comfortable in your own skin

P _____ people more than p_____, p_____, and p_____

E E_____ by example “Allow your shadow of influence to become large”

A Anticipate PDA ... P_____, D_____ situations, and
A_____ destroyers and solve them ahead of their arrival

K K_____ it up a notch or two, move out past your comfort zone

U Unite your staff with a balance of your vision and their personal DNA
“D_____ N_____ to A_____”

P P_____ with them about their wins among their family and their work family ... Come on Let’s Celebrate!
